

From Dual Student to Department Lead:

Discover how Mads Gadeberg grew with us.

Where it all began

In 2016, I joined schülke as a dual student in Business Informatics, starting in the IT department. My first role was in first-level support, helping colleagues solve technical issues.

I was drawn to schülke by the meaningful mission “We protect lives worldwide” and the opportunity to explore different departments through the dual study program. From the start, I felt welcomed and valued—my opinion mattered, and my colleagues were supportive and friendly.

Guided by great people

Throughout my journey at schülke, I was supported by mentors and colleagues who believed in me. My former boss played a key role, showing genuine interest in both my professional and personal development. During the mentoring program, I gained valuable new perspectives that helped shape my leadership style. I am grateful to many people at schülke who supported my growth and gave me the chance to thrive.

Today's impact

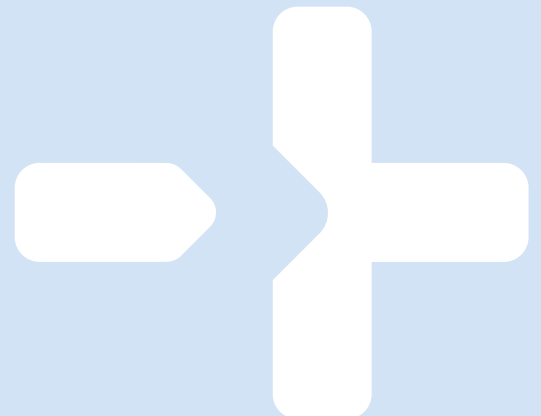

As Head of Operational Excellence, I lead continuous improvement initiatives across the plant. My team supports manufacturing, filling & packaging, and quality control through optimization projects, digitalization, and performance management.

I enjoy making a real impact with my team and contributing to strategic decisions as part of the plant leadership team.

Lessons learned

I have learned the importance of resilience and staying grounded. I believe in taking work seriously while maintaining a healthy perspective and I perform best when I am passionate about the task and truly care about the outcome. My advice to young professionals:

Stay curious, be open to learning, and seize the opportunities to make a difference.

Why I stayed

I stayed at schülke because the company offers meaningful work, a supportive culture, and real opportunities for growth. Mentorship, trust, and the chance to take responsibility have made schülke a great place to build a career.
